IN A JAM — Twelve-year-old Jimmy Bartlett, of Tulsa, Okla., thought the handcuffs hanging on a door at a friend's house looked like a toy. So he snapped one side to his wrist — then found the other half was locked to the door. The friend, Carl White, brought Jimmy a chair, but couldn't find the key to the handcuffs. Carl's uncle, a merchant patrolman who owned the handcuffs, couldn't locate the key, either. Patrolman J. W. Fransen, shown concentrating on the lock, discovered his key wouldn't fit. But another officer had a key that later released Jimmy.

Noon Vote Here Tops '60 Primary

Despite a steady drizzle this morning, voting in the city's primary election showed an increase of 50 over the number of ballots cast in the comparable May primary in 1960.

By noon today a check of the city's 23 polling places showed a total of 458 votes — 311 Republican and 147 Democrat.

The actual noon count is somewhat higher, however, because without indicating party affiliations, according to precinct workers.

The noontime tally in the 1960 primary was 401—242 Republican and 159 Democrat.

Salem voters are balloting on two local levies—an 8.5-mill renewal tax for school operation and a half-mill renewal levy for park and recreation purposes. Each would be in effect five years.

In addition, city residents will

Industry Pay Shows Good Rise In April

Salem's industrial payroll for March showed a substantial increase of $298,056 over the same month in 1961, according to Chamber of Commerce figures released today.

The March payroll totaled $1,602,735 as compared to $1,304,679 for the same month last year. The March total was up $121,205 over the February plant payroll.

Parking receipts also increased sharply over March, 1961. A total of $2,798 was taken in this year during the month as compared to $1,810 in 1961.

Other items on the local business barometer changed as follows:

Electric meters, down 18 to 5,068; gas meters, up 344 to 4,913; postal receipts, up $1 to $24,908; and telephones, up 112 to 9,032.

'How To Succeed --' Gets Army Award

O'Connor Novel Pulitzer Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — A smash Broadway takeoff on modern American business and a novel about an Irish-American priest in a rundown Boston parish have won the 1962 Pulitzer Prizes for drama and fiction.

The musical, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," was written by Abe Burrows, Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert, with a score by Frank Loesser. Edwin O'Connor wrote the winning book, "The Edge of Sadness."

"How to Succeed," which already had won awards from the New York Drama Critics Circle and the American Theater Wing, stars Robert Morse as an aggressive young businessman, and Rudy Vallee as a veteran tycoon.

Burrows pictured the award as "a kind of confirmation of what we were trying to do—tell an American story from a specific viewpoint."

The 46th annual Pulitzer Prizes were awarded Monday by the trustees of Columbia University on recommendation of the Advisory Board on Pulitzer Prizes. They are administered by the Graduate School of Journalism under terms of the will of the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer.

The Panama City, Fla., News-Herald won the gold plaque for meritorious public service by a newspaper for its three-year campaign against entrenched corruption in the Gulf Coast city and surrounding Bay County.

Walter Lippman, 72-year-old veteran New York Herald Tribune syndicate writer, was cited for the second time in four years, this time for wise and responsible international reporting. He won a special Pulitzer citation in 1958.

The 1962 prize for news photography went to Paul Vathis of the Harrisburg, Pa., bureau of The Associated Press for a picture of President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. It showed them with heads bowed, backs to the camera during a conference at Camp David, Md., on April 22, 1961.

It was the fifth Pulitzer prize in photography won by Associated Press staffers.

Theodore H. White, who celebrated his 47th birthday on Sunday, became the first winner in a new Pulitzer Prize category for general non-fiction with "The Making of the President 1960," an account of the last presidential campaign.

"I just feel good that a journalistic book has been recognized in the awards," White said.

For the first time in 45 years, the trustees made no award in the category of biography. It was reported Monday night that the trustees had turned down a recommendation by the advisory board for "Citizen Hearst," W. A. Swanberg's book on the life of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst.

The prize for history went to Lawrence H. Gipson, 81-year-old historian at Lehigh University, for "The Triumphant Empire: Thunderclouds Gather in the West, 1755-1755," volume 10 of a series dealing with the British Empire before the American Revolution.

The music prize was won by Robert Ward, 44-year-old Cleveland-born artist now living in Nyack, N.Y., for "The Crucible," a three-act opera first performed in 1958.

Primaries Held In Five States

Record Vote In Florida Expected

By The Associated Press
Light turnouts are expected for the most part today as voters in Ohio, Florida, Indiana, West Virginia and New Mexico choose party nominees in primary elections.

Only in Florida, which had some of the hardest fought primary campaigns, were record crowds anticipated. Attention also was focused on Florida for a possible voter reaction to President Kennedy's proposed Social Security financing of medical care for the aged.

Candidates were seeking gubernatorial nominations in Ohio and New Mexico. U.S. senatorial nominations in Ohio and Florida and 54 House seat nominations in the five states.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and Sen. George Smathers of Florida both appeared certain of renomination in the Democratic primaries in their states.

Ohio Democrats also were expected to favor Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for a second four-year term despite a determined primary bid by State Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

Ohio State Auditor James A. Rhodes appeared to have the lead in the Republican gubernatorial primary. John Marshall Briley, a Toledo executive, was the leading candidate in the GOP Senate race.

Ohio voters also will choose nominees for congressman at large. State Rep. Robert Taft Jr. is rated a heavy favorite over State Sen. Thomas Lowell Fess in the GOP primary. Both are sons of late U.S. senators. Eleven candidates vied for the Democratic nomination.

Florida, with four new seats in the House thanks to a big jump in population, has races for nomination in six congressional districts. In five of them the President's program for medical care for the aged is an issue.

Kennedy also figured in the Florida primary in another way. Early in the campaign he praised Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell of Miami, drawing protests from their Democratic primary foes. Smathers appears an easy winner but Fascell has rugged opposition from State Sen. David C. Eldredge, a conservative.

In the closing days of the campaign former Sen. Claude Pepper, seeking Democratic nomination for the House, released a letter from Kennedy thanking him for supporting the President's medical care and federal aid to education proposals.

Pepper said the letter amounted to an endorsement, but his major challenger, State Sen. Cliff Herrell of Miami Springs, called it "no more than a courtesy answer."

A moderate turnout was anticipated in New Mexico where four Democrats seek the right to oppose Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, unopposed in his bid for

Army Reviewed Pro-Red Laotians Roberts Case Continue Advance

Rejected Appeal, Military Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army took a second look at Maj. Archibald Roberts' case but rejected his appeal before mustering him out of uniform, it has been disclosed.

The Army said Roberts was relieved from active duty as of Monday and that he has left Ft. Lee, Va., for his home in Fort Collins, Colo.

Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. announced on April 27 that he had ordered Roberts dismissed from the active Army because of improper statements by Roberts in a speech before the Daughters of the American Revolution a week earlier.

Roberts, 47, onetime aide to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, spoke to the DAR off the cuff after the Pentagon had refused to clear a text he had prepared.

In his impromptu talk, Roberts said Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles had a Communist background—a charge which Yorty promptly denied—and that the assistant secretary of state, G. Mennen Williams, had leftist leanings.

Roberts, a veteran of more than 18 years of active Army service, protested his dismissal on grounds the action violated Army regulations.

Asked about the status of the case, the Army said that Roberts on May 1 wrote Stahr asking a reconsideration.

The case was subsequently reviewed and the action taken was reaffirmed, the Army said, adding that Roberts had been notified of the results of the review.

Roberts retains his reserve commission.

Roberts asked Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., to intercede in his behalf and last week the senator wrote the Army, asking for information. His aide told a reporter Allott had not yet received a reply.

Allott has said his concern is whether Roberts' rights were abridged, as he would concern himself with the rights of any constituent.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The pro-Communist forces that captured Nam Tha are advancing on the royal Lao government's last stronghold in northern Laos, acting Foreign Minister Sisouk Nachampassak reported today.

Sisouk said the Pathet Lao troops were within 20 miles of government-held Houei Sai, on the Mekong River border between Laos and Thailand.

Sisouk said the pro-Communist troops were "pushing their way" from Nam Tha along the road to Houei Sai, 100 miles to the southwest, indicating that they had covered 80 miles in the two days since they captured Nam Tha.

Sisouk had claimed earlier that at least 10 Communist North Vietnamese and Red Chinese battalions took part in the attack on Nam Tha.

U.S. sources said there has been no confirmation that Chinese Communist troops were in the fighting at Nam Tha, 20 miles south of the Red China border. They said the Pathet Lao troops included Chinese-speaking Lu tribesmen of Laos.

Sisouk refused to disclose the strength of the government garrison at Houei Sai, saying such information "would only benefit our enemies." The Nam Tha-Houei Sai road was believed to be the only overland escape route for the 5,000 or more government troops retreating from Nam Tha, but Sisouk said "they are regrouping somewhere else."

Sisouk disclosed the advance after an hour meeting with Malcolm MacDonald, British co-chairman of the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos whose visit here coincided with the fall of Nam Tha.

Sisouk said he gave MacDonald a strong protest against the Nam Tha attack, which violated both a 1961 cease-fire order and peace pledges of the rebel leaders, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and Prince Souphanouvong of the Pathet Lao.

Both the U.S. and British governments denounced the capture of Nam Tha as a flagrant violation of the cease-fire, and the United States sought to have it investigated by the so-far ineffective International Armistice Control Commission.

Because the Communists hold the upper hand militarily, Washington sources expected the State

4 Sandusky Women Die In Collision

ELLENDALE, Del. (AP)—Four Sandusky, Ohio, women were killed and three other persons were injured late Monday in an auto accident described by the Delaware state police as the worst in the state this year.

Troopers identified the victims as Lillian E. Roesch, 57; Gladys L. Kohn, 65; Laura Brown, 63; and Mrs. Ralph Wykoff, 65.

Police said the four women were occupants of a northbound car which collided with another on Route 113 about a mile north of here.

The second car was driven southbound by Armando Badia, 29, of Milford, Del. Troopers said he tried to pass a third car, brushed it and slammed into the Ohio auto, of which Mrs. Brown was believed to have been the driver.

Mrs. Neyte Abele, 59, of Milford was hospitalized in serious condition. She had been an occupant of the car from Sandusky.

Badia and his passenger, Mary Ann Williams, also of Milford, were injured.

The occupants of the third car were reported uninjured.

Troopers said the Ohio car was en route to Clayton, Del., after a trip to Ocean City, Md., a seashore resort. The third car also was traveling north.

Follows Same Theme As In C. of C. Speech

Says Cooperation Needed To Serve National Interest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—President Kennedy told labor today that "unjustified wage demands which require price increases" are as much against the national interest as "unjustified profit demands which require price increases."

He said, "I speak with a single voice to the men on both sides of the nation's bargaining tables when I say that your sense of responsibility—the responsibility of both labor and management to the general public—is the foundation on which our hopes must build for the survival and success of the free enterprise system." Must Define Goals

The President, in a speech prepared for the United Auto Workers convention, said the administration would not undertake to fix prices and wages in a peacetime economy but that it must define goals and point out the national interest.

"But we possess and seek no powers of compulsion," added Kennedy, saying the government must mainly rely on the voluntary efforts of labor and business to make certain the national interest is preserved.

Thus within a month of his successful battle to force Big Steel to roll back its price increases, Kennedy has advised labor the same standard will be applied to wage increases—the public interest.

But as he tried to soothe businessmen's concern over his steel price tactics eight days ago when he spoke to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Kennedy today attempted to allay labor's concern over the administration's close patrolling of wage controls.

He told the chamber, "We do not want the added burden of determining individual prices for individual products."

Said Same to UAW

He said much the same thing to the auto workers. "We have no intention of intervening in every labor dispute. We are neither able nor willing to substitute our judgment for the judgment of those who sit at every local bargaining table in the country."

Kennedy told the UAW delegates the "same responsibility for a noninflammatory and peaceful settlement applies both to you and management in your forthcoming negotiations in the aircraft and missile industry."

On the eve of Kennedy's speech, UAW President Walter Reuther hurried out a statement confirming that the union's collective bargaining policy conforms with Kennedy's economic stability goals.

It came out one day after Reuther appeared to be bucking against the administration's appeals to keep pay raises closely geared to rises in productivity. The UAW chief told the convention Sunday that wages for workers should rise faster than gains in productivity.

It was reliably reported that Reuther had been on the telephone to the White House before he turned out the statement Monday night.

In the statement Reuther said the union's collective bargaining policy is and always has been to achieve wage increases and fringe benefits "out of the higher productivity of the American economy and not out of the pockets of consumers through higher prices"—a phrase similar to one spoken today by Kennedy.

Said the President, "A wage policy which seeks its gains out

DiSalle Confident Of Victory Over McElroy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Major interest in today's Ohio primary election focused on nominations for governor, U.S. senator and a congressman-at-large.

Possible showers appeared unlikely to affect estimates of a relatively light vote approximating 1.4 million of Ohio's 4.7 million potential voters. The record high primary vote was 1.5 million in 1960. The 1956 total was 1.2 million.

Democrats are expected to out-vote Republicans about 740,000 to 660,000, largely because of a down-to-the-wire race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, former President Truman's price controller, expressed confidence that he would turn back a determined bid by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy on the Democratic ticket.

McElroy concentrated a stretch drive in his hometown of Cleveland and Cuyahoga County where about one-fourth of Ohio's primary vote is cast. Strategists said the county could go either way but conceded downstate strength to DiSalle, who is rounding out Ohio's first four-year gubernatorial term.

On the Republican side, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, had only nominal opposition from William L. White, Mount Vernon businessman, for governor.

Two Democratic opponents of U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche appeared to have little chance of upsetting the former five-term governor's bid for renomination. They are Albert T. Ball, a Cleveland attorney, and Raymond W.

Beringer of Toledo, operator of two service stations.

Strong organization support for John Marshall Briley gave him an apparent edge over three opponents for the Republican U. S. Senatorial nomination. Briley left an executive post with Owens-Corning Fiberglas Co., Toledo, to make his first bid for public office.

Opposing Briley are John S. Ballard of Akron, a county prosecutor, and two state senators — Charles E. Fry of Springfield and Ross Pepple of Lima.

Robert Taft Jr., Ohio House majority leader and son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, looked to Republicans like a sure winner for their congressman-at-large nomination. His opponent is State Sen. Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, son of the late U.S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

Democrats fielded 11 aspirants for the right to oppose Taft in the Nov. 6 general election. Installed as favorites were Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan and Alan F. Reeves of Cleveland, a former aide of U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young. Young has two more years to serve.

Twenty-two of Ohio's 23 incumbent congressmen seek renomination. Only four have nominal opposition in the primaries.

For nominations for 11 statewide elective offices, Democrats have 38 candidates and Republicans 30.

Also on primary ballots are 486 candidates for 137 seats in the Ohio House, 74 for state Senate, 200 for county auditor, 122 for common pleas court, 26 for appellate courts, 373 for county commissioner and 6 for probate court judge.

Elected in congressional districts will be 46 state central committee members in each party. Democrats have 102 candidates for those posts and Republicans 62.

Polls are open between 6:30 a.m., EST, and 6:30 p.m., EST.

Tips on Thwarting Burglars Issued By Chief Lutsch

Although burglary is a problem the year round, Police Chief Martin Lutsch warns that the approaching summer months, when families are most likely to be away for extended periods, are the most active for burglars and prowlers.

Burglars spend their daylight hours canvassing neighborhoods, looking for uncut lawns and over-stuffed mailboxes, the chief says. They spend their spare evenings looking for darkened houses or lights that are left on too long, he added.

To help the police department combat burglaries, Chief Lutsch urges persons to make the following checks before leaving home:

1. Cancel all daily deliveries.
2. Leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer so that your lights turn on at dusk and turn off again at bedtime to create a "lived-in" look while you're away.
3. Discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it forwarded.
4. Notify your police department and a neighbor as to the date of your departure and return.
5. Leave shades or blinds in normal position—not completely closed.
6. Close and lock all windows and doors—including the garage.
7. Arrange to have your lawn cut.
8. Arrange with a neighbor or post office to hold all mail.
9. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks (with a dead lock mechanism) on all exterior doors.
10. Rent a safety deposit box for storage of all valuables.

WHEN HER RAMBLER NEEDS ITS FIRST CHASSIS LUBRICATION

He's two. The Rambler's brand-new. He'll be five, most likely, and riding to kindergarten, when the Rambler Classic needs its first lube job.* Meanwhile, it will travel twice as far between engine oil changes as any previous model.

It's something like this that makes a Rambler so prized. And other things, too—like the Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe that won't rust out, the rattle-free Single-Unit construction, the exclusive Deep-Dip rustproofing, clear to the roof, that makes Rambler the world's most rustproofed car.

Someday there may be a completely service-free car that lasts forever. Today, Rambler comes closest. Come get the full story from your Rambler dealer.

*This chassis lubrication lasts 3 years or 33,000 miles, whichever occurs first.

"Clean heat, no noise, maintenance or upkeep..." With Flameless Electric House Heating

...says Mr. Henry C. Sweitzer, 7413 Edison NE, Hartsville, Ohio

Mr. Sweitzer adds, "With individual thermostats, even temperature can be controlled in every room. Floors are always warm... no drafts as with conventional heating plants. No problems about maintaining heat when we go on vacations."

And Mrs. Sweitzer says, "The furniture can be easily arranged, as there are no registers in the way. I especially like the overhead heat... because it is very quick to have the bathroom extra warm for baths, especially for the baby." Another advantage Mrs. Sweitzer enjoys is the fact that "electric heat is very clean."

The Sweitzers' home has 6 rooms with 1040 square feet of living area. It's electrically heated with individual room ceiling cable.

The electric way is the only new way to heat your home since time began, because it's flameless.

Before you build, buy or remodel, investigate the extra advantages of flameless electric home heating. For complete information, call your nearby Ohio Edison office.

Teacher of Year To Get Award From Kennedy

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Marie L. French has been a teacher 23 years and has had only one long absence from class—when she had the mumps.

"That was a long time ago," she recalled Monday.

Starting Sunday, Mrs. French will be absent for a week. She is going to Washington to accept an award as national Teacher of the Year from President Kennedy.

She and her husband, Freeman French, also a teacher, are to be at the White House for the presentation Monday. They will spend the rest of the week sightseeing.

Mrs. French is a mathematics teacher at Topeka High School. Her husband teaches music in junior high school.

She was chosen from among 14 million elementary and high school teachers in the nation. From the President she will receive a gold lapel pin and a certificate.

The competition is sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the Council of Chief State School Officers and Look magazine.

Mrs. French's finest testimonials come from her pupils: "She understands kids and gets ideas over at our levels."

"She's the most intelligent, most understanding and most varied person that I have ever known."

"She has convinced me and many other kids that teaching is a wonderful life's work."

Mrs. French agrees. "There is no more satisfying life," she says.

Pop-and-Mom Store

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the mainstays of our past that seems slowly passing from the American scene is "the pop-and-mom store."

A pop-and-mom store is just what it sounds like it is.

It is a trade term for a small family owned business establishment in which a husband and wife—and often their children—did most of the work in order to cut down the labor costs.

There was a time in America when most of the nation's business, in large cities, small towns and at rural crossroads, was transacted in pop-and-mom stores. Some sold dry goods. Some sold candy and drugs. Some sold hardware. Some sold groceries. But whatever they sold, they were small, they were family owned—and usually they had a hard time keeping going.

They represented the fulfillment of the American dream, in the days when the great American dream was to start a small business of your own—and grew up with the country.

Unfortunately, the pop-and-mom store too often was a marginal operation representing ambition rather than experience, and dominated more by hope and heart than by good business sense.

They failed obscurely by the hundreds of thousands, but they served as a wonderful training ground for many of today's most astute industrial leaders.

What really doomed most of them was a change in the nation's merchandising patterns. This resulted from such factors as the popularity of the automobile, the move to the suburbs, the spread of chain-store operations—the rise of supermarkets, discount houses, mail order firms, the switch to mass marketing in practically every field.

Big business simply took away the business from little business. But whoever worked as a youth in a small pop-and-mom store carries the thrill of those days indelibly in his memory.

You were a person yourself and the people you waited on were real people, not just two-legged buying units.

If the store happened to be an old-fashioned, sawdust-floored small grocery, the work was hard and the hours were long and the pay was small. Few things came prepackaged, and you had to hand wrap and weigh everything from a pound of liverwurst—the working man's steak—to a sack of potatoes.

But there were compensations. You really got to know people as they are, and in time became an authority on the neighborhood and who lived in it.

Your true role was to act more as a friendly neighborhood psychologist than as a hard-sell salesman.

The huge, impersonal, antiseptic shopping centers of today are far more efficient business operations, but nostalgia holds a warm remembrance for the pop-and-mom store that flourished of yore, when America was younger and in some ways kinder.

Gates, Water Council Topic At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Railroad crossing gates, an issue that has been tossed around by city councilmen for the last 30 years, was revived Monday night and two state sanitarians urged measures to insure water purity.

The council safety committee, by a 2-1 vote, recommended that automatic gates be installed at two Pennsylvania railroad crossings on N. Market St. and N. James St. A discussion was held on the matter, but no action was taken.

Richard Halishak of Cuyahoga Falls and James B. Kneale of Columbus, sanitarians for the Ohio Department of Health, urged the elimination of one of the city wells which they say is a source of contamination of the city's water supply.

The health workers said there is bacterial pollution from the well despite treatment with chlorine. They speculate the well is being contaminated from a creek flowing near the well.

The officials also recommended the continuation of chlorination and the purchase of a new machine to do the job. Council was also told that more frequent flushing of city water lines is needed. Whereas the lines are now washed out twice a year, the two men recommended flushing every other month. General cleaning and repair of the water reservoir is needed, too, Halishak and Kneale said.

Balloting Meager In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL — A steady rain and a listless electorate produced one of the lightest off-year primary election turnouts in years this morning in East Liverpool off about 60 per cent from the last comparable vote in 1960.

A sampling indicated a total vote of only 388 in the city's 34 precincts, in the first three hours after the polls opened, compared with 1,124 at the same time on 1960 primary day.

Because of the steady rain, the morning vote here probably is not a true indication of the county-wide total that can be expected. If it were, the county's total vote today would hit between 6,000 and 7,000, although it has been estimated it will be around 17,999.

Voting is heavier in subdivisions outside East Liverpool, where local tax levies await a decision. The city has no strictly local issues to produce interest.

Reds' Capture of Nam Tha Seen As Warning to Phoumi

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—The Laotian pro-Communists have served notice on stubborn rightist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan that he had better join a coalition government or take the military consequences.

This appears to be the clear message behind the Pathet Lao's capture of the northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha from Phoumi's forces.

The Communists in Laos, as elsewhere, use military measures for political purposes. They would not have flouted the cease-fire so openly if they did not believe that Nam Tha could be employed as a powerful lever on the intransigent Phoumi.

Phoumi, vice premier of the Vientiane government and the man who actually pulls the strings has refused to give up the key ministries of Defense and Interior in the proposed coalition government of rightist, neutralists and pro-Communists to be headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The United States, which is committed to the coalition formula, is pressuring Phoumi to withdraw his objections. U.S. financial aid has been withheld from the Vientiane government. But the general's answer has been to go off with front-mar. Premier Boun Oum on an aid-begging trip to various Asian countries.

In taking Nam Tha, the Pathet Lao has not necessarily reopened the civil war in earnest. It appears to have left the door carefully ajar to new negotiations by dispatching neutralist Gen. Kong Le on a junket to Moscow. With Souvanna Phouma in Europe, the Pathet Lao seems to have gone to some pains to picture the neutralists with clean hands as far as Nam Tha is concerned. They have not been identified as having taken part in the assault on the town.

The comparative ease with which the Pathet Lao seized Nam Tha—it fell after only six hours of artillery bombardment and LEETONIA PLAY SCENE — The Seniors at Leetonia High School will present the comedy, "The Campbells Are Coming," Saturday evening in the school auditorium. The play is directed by Mrs. Mary Beilhart. fighting—is a sharp reminder that they, and not Phoumi's troops, were on the offensive and winning when the major powers brought about a cease-fire last year.

The Kennedy administration feels that a coalition government in Laos headed by neutralist Souvanna Phouma is the best of a series of bad choices.

The alternatives would be abandoning Laos to the Communists entirely or moving in a big U.S. expeditionary force that would be fighting not only an elusive enemy but some of the most inhospitable terrain on earth.

Korea is too fresh in the memories of many in the U.S. administration to make either of these last two possibilities acceptable. The neutralist coalition hinges on Souvanna Phouma, and the U.S. government has said repeatedly it has confidence in his good faith.

Cadillac

No place to tell a secret!

Take it from us, you'd better not try to exchange confidences in a new 1962 Cadillac.

For the car is so silent in operation—even at the legal limit of the road—that even a whisper can be heard.

But while that wondrous quiet might make it difficult to trade secrets—it speaks volumes about motor car quality and goodness.

For the silence of the Cadillac car is as unique as the circumstances that produce it.

Cadillac cars, for instance, are built in only one place—and they are built by men who build nothing else.

They are crafted to unbelievably fine tolerances. Some engine parts must be machined to an accuracy of one ten-thousandth of an inch.

They are styled so scientifically that wind noise is reduced to a lullaby—and they are constructed so well and insulated so thoroughly that outside sounds are virtually eliminated.

They undergo more than 1400 inspections in the course of their manufacture and assembly—and are then subjected to the most authoritative final inspection in the industry.

You ought to visit your Cadillac dealer soon and sample the results for yourself. And while you're at the wheel—listen to the eloquent quiet.

It's one more example of why only a car that's designed like a Cadillac and built like a Cadillac can ride like a Cadillac.

Rogers Sanitation Problems Discussed

ROGERS — Village sanitation was among the problems discussed at a three-hour session of Council Monday night, with all councilmen attending.

Ben Gardner, a property owner, made a complaint about storm sewers being used as sanitary sewers and said if he did not get some action from village officials soon regarding the matter he would contact state authorities.

Mayor Robert McCreary reported that he had spoken recently with Henry Stockdale, county sanitarian, about sanitation problems in the community and would contact him again Saturday.

Albert Starkey, street commissioner, stressed the need of fire extinguishers for certain spots in the village. Council is to investigate further and obtain prices.

Starkey announced that Friday and Saturday will be the annual clean-up days and if the job is not completed will continue on Monday.

Mrs. Mayme Hall read a letter from members of the Pythian Sisters asking for use of the community hall May 15 for the annual installation of lodge officers. Council granted the request.

Mayor McCreary announced his resignation as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department.

Fire Chief Sidney Cowan spoke briefly concerning the department's need of an inhalator mask and filter unit and mentioned that the old railroad station will be burned some time in July for fire control practice.

Following a brief discussion on the need for street marking signs, Glenn Baker and Ed Galbreath were appointed to check and inform Mr. Starkey as to how much material would be needed.

EAST PALESTINE—The Royal China Co. which has been closed down since April 23, will resume operations soon, according to Fred C. Henderson, vice-president.

of the fruits of technology instead of the pockets of the consumer is the one basic approach that can help every segment in the economy."

Kennedy's speech today often struck the chords he hit in his chamber talk. He told the businessmen, for instance, the administration did not want to set prices.

Kennedy told the union convention: "We can suggest guidelines for the economy—but we cannot fix a single pattern for every plant and industry. We can and must define national goals and point out the national interest—and, where applicable, we can and must enforce the law, on restraints of trade and national emergencies—but we possess and seek no powers of compulsion, and must rely primarily on the voluntary efforts of labor and management, and their sense of public responsibility, to make certain that the national interest is preserved."

Kennedy said that it is a simple, inescapable truth that increases in productivity—in output per man-hour—"set the outer limit to our economic progress."

No financial sleight of hand, he said, can raise real wages and profits faster than productivity without defeating their own purpose through inflation.

"Unjustified wage demands which require price increases are equally as contrary to the national interest as unjustified profit demands which require price increases," said the President.

But he stressed that when productivity has been raised—by the skills of better management, the efficiency of labor and the modernization financed by investors—all "three groups can reap the rewards of that productivity, and still pass lower prices on to the consumer."

Only about 30 per cent of two million eligible voters are expected to turn out in Indiana where all 11 congressmen are expected to be renominated. Only six of the incumbents have primary opposition. House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck has no foe in the Republican primary.

In West Virginia the only races are for Congress, and the only incumbents with opposition are Democratic reps. Ken Hechler and Elizabeth Kee.

Woman Hurt In One of 4 Road Mishaps

An East Liverpool area woman was treated at East Liverpool City Hospital for a whiplash injury to her neck received in one of four traffic accidents investigated over the past 24-hour period by the Lisbon barracks of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Injured was Mildred Hoppel, 38, of RD 3, East Liverpool. She was released after treatment at the hospital. The Patrol said her car was struck from the rear by another east-bound auto operated by Clarence Cline, 32, of RD 1, Lisbon, at 10 p.m. Monday on County Rd. 430, about two miles west of the Pennsylvania state line.

A pick-up truck and a car were damaged when they collided on Rt. 45, a half mile south of Salem, at 12:10 p.m. Monday. According to the Patrol, the truck driver, Ralph Ferguson, 65, of RD 1, Lisbon, was waiting to make a left turn when his vehicle was struck from the rear by a north-bound car operated by Louis G. Ferkol, 24, of Maple Heights. Ferkol was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Walter R. Hunt, 45, of Pittsburgh escaped injury when his truck overturned on Rt. 14, between Columbiana and Rt. 7, at 2:30 p.m. Monday. Hunt told the Patrol that he drove off the right berm to avoid an unidentified car which was passing another truck.

Dorothy L. McGonigal, 24, of East Liverpool, was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle after she lost control of her car on County Rd. 417 (old Rt. 30), skidded around and went over an embankment backward. She told the Patrol her brakes failed. The driver was not hurt and her vehicle received only minor damage.

Flat Roofs Bore U. S. Housewives

Architects and home builders please note: Flat roofs have struck a sour note with the American housewife.

This fact is prominent in a roundup of the clear-cut dislikes of the hundreds of housewife delegates to congresses sponsored by the government and private industry to find out what women want in their future homes.

Why have they condemned flat roofs? "Very boring," said some delegates. "No attic storage space," said others. "Too hot inside," commented some. "Makes a house look like a pill box," complained one.

Many builders and architects from coast to coast agree. Some developers used pitched roofs exclusively because the houses can be roofed with asphalt shingles in colors to give them individuality.

In addition, studies have shown that a house built with a flat roof usually costs more to construct than one built with a pitched roof.

Always use scraps of leftover pie dough! Roll them out in rectangular or square shape and sprinkle with paprika; fold over and cut in strips. Brush with milk or cream and bake in a hot oven.

formed Oct. 26, 1961, at New York City Center. It is based on a play by Arthur Miller.

Alan Dugan, 39-year-old New York City poet, won the poetry award for his "Poems."

Other journalism awards included:

Local reporting under the pressure of editor time—Robert D. Mullins, 37, reporter for the Salt Lake City, Utah, Desert News, for his coverage of a murder-kidnaping at Dead Horse Point, Utah.

Local reporting where edition time is not a factor—George Bliss, 43, of the Chicago Tribune, for his investigatory reporting on scandals in the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

National reporting—Nathan G. Caldwell, 48, and Gene S. Graham, 37, of the Nashville Tennessean. They were cited for six years of detailed reporting on undercover cooperation between management interests in the coal industry and the United Mine Workers.

Editorial writing—Thomas M. Storke, 85-year-old editor and publisher of the Santa Barbara (Calif.) News-Press, for editorials "calling public attention to the efforts of the semi-secret John Birch Society to wage a campaign of hate and vilification in Santa Barbara."

Cartoons—Edmund S. Valtman, 47, of the Hartford (Conn.) Times, for a cartoon published Aug. 31, 1961 showing Prime Minister Fidel Castro leading a chained Cuba and telling Brazil, "What you need, man, is a revolution like mine." Valtman is a native of Estonia.

The awards in the journalism category carry a prize of $1,000 each for individuals cited, except where two share a single prize. Prizes in the field of the arts amount to $500.

Plan Enforcement Of Four-Way Stop Near Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Enforcement of the four-way stop at the intersection of Township Roads 740 and 846 east of here will be made as the result of an understanding by Franklin Township trustees.

Any arrests for violation will be made under state laws, Constable Forrest Young and the trustees agreed.

The township trustees, at their regular meeting last night, heard a report from Trustee John Wardo that county commissioners were acting on a request to abandon an unused alley at Millport.

A discussion was held on road oiling and paving projects, to be done with help from the county.

Roy Brammer was present to discuss road equipment. Trustees attending the meeting were Wardo, Forrest Thompson and Paul Dowdell, and Clerk Coletta Kelly.

Constable Young reported that he patrolled 340 miles during April, answering 18 miscellaneous calls, making two arrests and warning 10 others.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

'Old Sol' Dries Up Your Skin

Sun faddists hate to face the fact that their skin ages prematurely as the result of exposure, and overexposure, to the ultraviolet rays of Old Sol.

Compare the color and texture of your 'protected' skin areas, however small in extent, with the dried, coarse, leathery, lax, wrinkled or dark-spotted appearance of light-exposed regions.

If this proof on your own body is not sufficient, compare the relatively youthful appearance of a city dweller's face with the weather-beaten features of a farmer or sailor of the same age who has necessarily had to expose himself to the elements.

WHAT OF OTHER unpleasant features of the aging skin, such as creases, wrinkles, bags under the eyes, crow's feet, sagging facial contours, double chin, rooster's neck, "dowager's hump," "liver spots," skin transparency, dryness of skin, itching skin, chin bristles and a mustache for the ladies, a receding forehead if not total baldness for the men?

Well, other than avoidance of excessive exposure to sunlight, agencies such as the American Medical Assn. and Food and Drug Administration have nothing to suggest with respect to the prevention of these changes. Nor do they have any high regard for cosmetic applications that purport to delay or reverse the aging process.

Indeed, the Food and Drug Administration has just seized, on charges of false and misleading label claims, some 200 "beauty power" devices. Makers claimed the devices would revitalize and restore resiliency to facial muscles, firm sagging facial contours, tone flabby muscles, stimulate facial circulation, remove cropiness of skin and the "dowager's hump" and generally improve skin texture.

THESE PRODUCTS did nothing more than impart to the skin a tingling sensation by means of wet pads connected to a small power transformer.

Nor did the skin specialists that attended the symposium of the Medical Assn. provide more comfort for the cosmeticians. "Cosmetic applications might lubricate the dry, senile skin, but, regardless of content, they have little, if any, effect on wrinkling," states the Journal of the American Medical Assn. in an editorial.

However, the editorial concludes with some encouragement for those whose vanity or professional careers demands positive action. For, in expert hands, surgical abrasive techniques, plastic surgery and the application of chemicals may prove successful for varying periods of time.

With these exceptions, however, the rest of us will have to wear our wrinkles as "service stripes." And wear them, I hope and trust, with a certain pride.

Columbiana, Salem Leading Contenders In County Meet

Clippers Are Rich In Individual Talent; Quakers Have Depth

9 Schools Entered at East Palestine; Finals Scheduled Friday at 7 p.m.

By LYNN BROWNE
News Sports Editor
Columbiana and Salem are the leading contenders for the Columbiana County track crown when nine of the 11 county schools vie in the 59th annual spring classic at East Palestine Friday evening.

SALEM LEADS IN the number of titles won with 24, followed by East Palestine with 17 wins and the Blue Devils of Lisbon with 10.

Salem has been victorious in six of the last nine years. Lisbon and Salineville will not participate this year.

Despite the fact that the thinclads of Columbiana appear to be almost sure victors in four events and are likely choices to cop at least three others, Salem's Quakers may have the necessary depth to keep their hopes alive. The ever-dangerous East Palestine aggregation cannot be ruled out as potential giant-killers.

Prospects seem dim for the Potters of East Liverpool since their distance ace Bruce McCoy has been ruled scholastically ineligible.

SALEM IS the defending champion, having turned last year's meet into a rout by taking first in half the 14 events.

Columbiana's Ward will be the only defending champion at the meet this year. In the 1962 meet as a freshman, he placed first in the broad jump with a leap of 18-5 1/2. He has recorded a jump of 21-1 this year to be strong favorite. Salem's Dave Edling is the only other county athlete to hit the 20-foot mark.

In addition to being favored in the broad jump, Ward also has the county's best time in the 100-yard dash at 10.3 - two tenths of a second faster than Salem's Edling at 10.6 - and he also holds the best time in the 220-yard dash at 22.7.

WARD anchors the Clips' half-mile relay team that has posted a time of 1:35.3, two-tenths of a second faster than runner-up East Liverpool.

WARD'S RUNNING MATE, Dale Murphy, seems destined to claim a couple of events for himself. The versatile junior possesses the top marks in both the discus and the shot put. He has hurled the discus 144-10 and one-quarter and the shot 50-0. Leading contenders in the shot put are Ray Brown of Crestview and Salem's Ty Enders.

Columbiana also has a better-than-average chance of copping the low hurdles. Gosney is the Clips' leader in the event with a top time of 21.6. Also much in the race are Paul Conrad of Leetonia with a time of 22.2 and John Euill of Wellsville, who has been timed at 22 even.

IN THE REMAINING seven events, Salem holds the advantage in three and is tied for first in two others. Beery leads the pack in the 440-yard dash with a time of 53:0 and is also on the mile relay team, which set a new school mark of 3:40.8. Also on the record-breaking squad were Jim Ward, Tad Bonsall and Dave Taus.

Beery is tied in the high jump at 5-8 with two of Coach Ike Farrah's Leetonia Bears, Eric Painter and Russ Lehman. Salem's other advantages are in the pole vault and the mile run. John Panetzott and Beaver Local's Don Goforth have both vaulted 10-6 while John Tarleton holds the fastest time in the mile run, 4:51.9.

EAST PALESTINE'S Fred Hoaglin, who copped a second in the high hurdles last year, has a definite edge this season. The senior veteran's top time to date is 16.0.

Gene Metzgar of United Local has a three-second advantage in the 880-run, running it in 2:06.0. Prelims for the meet will start at 1:30 p.m. with the finals beginning at 7 p.m. Oliver Ellis of Youngstown will be the referee with John Russ and Lowell Allen, also of Youngstown, being starters.

Raps Winning Homer Against Ex-teammates

Aspromonte Paces Attack As Colts Blast Dodgers 9-6

By The Associated Press
Turnabout, which has always been considered fair play, was bound to happen after the National League stocked its new clubs through a player draft. And the No. 1 "turncoat" today is Houston's Bob Aspromonte.

The infielder, playing against his former Los Angeles teammates for the first time this season, stroked three hits and drove in the winning runs with a three-run homer in a 9-6 Colts' triumph Monday night that continued the Dodgers' nose dive.

Grabbed by the Colts for $75,000 in the expansion draft last October, Aspromonte, now 23, was the chief executioner among the cast of castoffs who combined to hand the Dodgers their fifth defeat in the last eight games.

The skid has cost the Dodgers 4 1/2 games in the NL pennant chase. Nine days ago they were only a half game out of first place. Now they're five back of pace-setting San Francisco, idle Monday as everyone in the majors was but the Dodgers and Colts.

Aspromonte crashed the crusher in the seventh off rookie Pete Richert (1-1) with two out. Former Dodger Norm Larker walked with one out to get things started. An out later Hal Smith singled to bring up Aspromonte, who drove one 380 feet into the left field seats for an 8-6 lead.

Aspromonte's homer gave reliever Bob Tiefenauer all the working room he needed, but Johnny Weekly's homer in the eighth tacked on an insurance run. Tiefenauer, getting his first decision, allowed only one hit in three innings.

The Dodgers will be at Houston again tonight as all 20 teams head back into action.

The first-place Giants invade St. Louis for a three-game set with the second-place Cardinals while the American League pace-setting New York Yankees are home for a two-game series with Boston.

The Indians will be at Minnesota, Kansas City at Baltimore, Detroit at Los Angeles and Chicago at Washington in other AL games. Filling out the NL program are Philadelphia at Cincinnati, New York at Chicago and Pittsburgh at Milwaukee.

Meanwhile, managers will be making last-minute decisions on which players to trim from their rosters to reach the mandatory 25-player limit by the Thursday midnight deadline.

In transactions Monday, the White Sox optioned one-time 22-game winner Herb Score to Indianapolis, the Tigers sold outfielder Georg Alusik to Kansas City and sent pitcher Terry Fox to their Denver farm club, and the Cardinals optioned pitcher Paul Toth to Atlanta.

OSU Winner Of Golf Title

Buckeyes Rally To Edge Ohio U.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State, paced by sophomore Tom Weiskopf, rallied to edged Ohio University and win its fourth straight Ohio intercollegiate golf championship Monday.

The Buckeyes trailed Ohio U., the 1958 winner, two strokes at the end of the first round of the 36-hole event. They pulled away on the afternoon session to win by four strokes, 792-796.

Weiskopf, a 19-year-old from Bedford, carded a four-over-par 148 to win the medalist trophy. He had rounds of 72 and 76 over Ohio State's rugged 7,120-yard, par 72 course.

Richard Ambrose of Bowling Green had a 75-75-150 for second and Carl Fenn of Akron was third with 78-74-152.

Despite perfect conditions, only 10 of the 118 starters from 20 schools broke 80 on the morning round, but 23 did it in the afternoon.

Weiskopf, who won the Ohio public links title last summer at Massillon, succeeds Jack Nicklaus of Ohio State as medalist king. Nicklaus won the Ohio, Big Ten and national intercollegiate crowns last year before turning pro.

In the team race they finished like this:

Ohio State 792, Ohio University 796, Cincinnati 799, Akron 806, Bowling Green 810, Denison 827, Wooster 831, Miami 832, Oberlin 844, Wittenberg 845, Dayton 846, Kent State 858, Youngstown 863, Xavier 874, Ohio Wesleyan 878, Defiance 891, Ohio Northern 901, Capital 913, Ashland 922, Mount Union 971.

Boy With Artificial Leg Hurls No-Hitter

PITTSBURGH (AP) - A 16-year-old pitcher with an artificial right leg turned in a no-hit, no-run game for the suburban Penn Hills High School baseball team Monday.

Tommy Walters, who throws right-handed, gave up only one walk in blanking Swissvale 3-0. He walked in blanking Swissvale 3-0. He had pitched a shutout last week. Young Walters' leg was amputated five years ago after he was injured in a football game.

West Branch Places Third

Leetonia Thinclads Edged by Wilson

Paced by Pete Ostapiak, Youngstown Woodrow Wilson defeated host Leetonia and the West Branch Warriors in a triangular meet Monday afternoon.

Wilson compiled 72 1/2 points; Leetonia made a fight of it by racking up 60 1-3 markers; and the Warriors, who are just starting to build a track squad, tallied 15 1-6 points.

Ostapiak raced to victory in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and was a member of Wilson's winning half-mile relay team. His time for the century was 10.6. He captured the 220 in 24.1.

LEETONIA and Wilson each took seven of the 14 events.

Junior star Paul Conrad captured the low hurdles for the Bears. Considering the fact that he wasn't pushed, Conrad turned in a respectable time of 22.5. The speedster went undefeated in the low hurdles this season. The meet yesterday was the last regular season affair for the Bears who are now ready for the Columbiana County meet Friday at East Palestine.

Russ Lehman went 5-6 in the high jump to take that event yesterday. Guy Falzetta got off a throw of 124-10 to capture the discus for the Bears. Capt. Eric Painter finished first in the 880 with a time of 2:11.2. Mike Burgess took the 440 in 56.3.

OTHER LEETONIA firsts were racked by Dattilio in the pole vault (9-6) and Hall in the high hurdles (17-9).

Big gun for West Branch was Roberts who placed in three events. He was third in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and fourth in the discus.

The most impressive mark posted in yesterday's meet came in the shot put when Wilson's Tom Sablak heaved the iron ball 50-3. He has done better, however.

Attendance At NL Games Hiked 42%

NEW YORK (AP) - National League baseball fans, braving cold, rain, sleet and heat, are turning out in larger numbers this season while helping the circuit regain its record-breaking pace of 1960.

Through Sunday's games, National League attendance was 1,684,506, an increase of 42 percent over last year. Even without the combined attendance of the two new teams, the Houston Colts and New York Mets, the gain was still 17 percent.

The Colts had pulled 202,400 through the turnstiles in 11 home dates for an average of 18,400. The Mets, with 95,251 for 10 home dates, were averaging 9,500.

The American League also showed a slight gain, according to the figures compiled by The Associated Press. The junior circuit's attendance was 1,144,312 compared to 1,136,057 in a comparable number of home dates in 1961.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, playing in the new Dodger Stadium (seating capacity 56,000) had the largest increase in the big leagues - 165,000. The Dodgers played in the 94,600-seat Los Angeles Coliseum last season.

Sent to Indianapolis on 24-Hour Recall

Score Optioned To Minor League

CHICAGO (AP) — Exactly five years ago Monday night, a screaming liner off the bat of Gil McDougald struck Cleveland pitcher Herb Score over the right eye.

That the eye was saved is a tribute to modern medicine and surgery. The tragedy did not end Score's pitching days but it did something possibly more heart-breaking.

It reduced what might have been one of baseball's most brilliant pitching careers into a series of comeback attempts which so far have been futile.

The Chicago White Sox, who acquired Score for pitcher Barry Latman two years ago, optioned the lefthander to Indianapolis Monday on 24-hour recall.

It could mean the end of Score's career in the majors at the prime age of 28. Score broke in with Cleveland in 1955 when he posted a 16-10 record to grab rookie honors in the American League.

The following year he was on his way with a 20-9 record. Since the injury he has been struggling along with a total of 17 victories and 26 defeats. He was shipped to the minors last year.

"I regret it," said Score when informed he was going to Indianapolis. "I feel so good. But I've got to pitch somewhere. If I wasn't throwing good, I'd say to myself Herbie you've had it. But I've been throwing good — feel strong. Maybe I can make it."

Score refuses to blame the eye incident for his ineffectiveness. "The eye's okay," he says, "it's my control that's bad."

Manager Al Lopez, the patient Spaniard, also feels Score can make it again.

Lopez, who with his coaches has spent hours working with Score, said recently, "There's no reason in the world Score can't pitch winning ball in the majors."

"He throws as hard as ever. His arm is strong and alive. One of these days Herb is going to return to his old form and surprise a lot of people. Everyone is pulling for him. He's one of the nicest guys in the game."

Score worked six innings for Sox this season and had no record with a 4.50 earned run average.

Blasts 7 Hits In 9 Times at Bat

Logan Dislikes Utility Role, But Is Making Most of It

By LOU PRATO

PITTSBURGH (AP)—After ten years as a regular in the National League, Johnny Logan doesn't exactly relish the idea of being a utility man.

But if that's the job his Pittsburgh Pirates bosses want him to fill, he is determined to play the best second-fiddle this side of the New York Philharmonic.

"I realize what being a utility man means," the one-time Milwaukee Braves' shortstop said. "But when I get a break to play—like now with Don Hoak injured—I'm going to show them that I'm the best man they can find and that I can get things done."

Logan certainly has been proving his point while subbing for Hoak in the last week. He blasted seven hits in nine times at bat and fielded like an all-star.

In 45 games last year with the Braves and Pirates, Logan had only 14 hits in 71 times at bat. "I'm a streak hitter," Logan said. "This is how I hit in Milwaukee. I've done nothing different this year except maybe worked a little harder. My legs are stronger than they've been in a long time. The exercises prescribed by trainer Danny Whelan have helped me considerably."

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh says Logan has been doing a good job.

Logan played with the Braves from 1951 until June of last season—almost all of the time as their regular shortstop. He never hit .300 but always was a dependable man both at bat and in the field.

BELL TO GIVE TALK

LISBON—Auditor Kenneth Bell will speak on the new reappraisal at the meeting of the Columbia County Chief School Administrators Assn. Friday noon at the Wick Hotel. County Supt. James L. McBride, chairman of the group, will preside.

TEE TIME

with BOB ROSBURG

The best specific advice I can give about the swing is—START IT RIGHT.

You begin telling the average fellow where to break his wrists, how far to take the club back, how to shift weight and details like that—and he starts thinking about it. Once he does that, he's liable no to even get the club back.

The secret is to keep the club in a controlled arc. The best way to do that is to start the backswing low. Keep the clubhead near and parallel to the ground, taking it directly back from the ball until you run out of shaft.

The length of the backswing has very little to do with power. It doesn't matter how far you take the clubhead back, as long as you keep it in that controlled arc.

A long backswing is inclined to make more trouble than a short one, because it tends to make you lose control. Jack Nicklaus has a very long backswing, but he controls it perfectly. Doug Sanders, who is unorthodox, has a very short swing "because it affords less opportunity for error," he says.

What you do once the club has been started in its controlled arc is largely dependent on your physical characteristics. Most of the so-called inviolable rules for swinging the club are no good if they don't fit.

For instance, most teachers insist the elbows must be kept close to the body, which is a good rule in general, but Doug Ford, another unorthodox swinger, disregards this so-called cardinal principle.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from

THERON

at the Old Country Store

Well our anniversary celebration is over and the Buick is gone. Ralph Gurd of Girard was the winner. I was hoping that someone near would get it until after I called and found that he was a regular customer of ours for some years. He drove an old car with bumper stickers on front and rear saying we shop at Theron's. He had been out of work for some time and his wife works at a small Isaly Store at Churchill. This goes to prove that it pays to drive miles to shop at The Country Store.

COLUMBIANA — One hundred and sixty-five members and guests attended the annual inspection of the Columbiana chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, recently.

Frost Blows Line, Another Poet Bails Him Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Frost, 88, blew a line while reciting one of his most oft-quoted poems. Another renowned American poet bailed him out from the audience.

"My little horse must think it queer," Frost rumbled Monday night to a packed theater in the Library of Congress, "to stop without a farmhouse near, between the woods... between the woods..."

"And frozen lake," came the stagewhispered voice from the rapt audience.

With a smile at colleague Louis Untermeyer, the library's special consultant in poetry, Frost picked up the line and finished "stopping by woods on a snowy evening."

He drew a standing, shouting ovation.

Frost held 600 listeners spellbound for more than an hour with his homey chatting and reading, which keyed for him a week at the library in his role as honorary consultant in the humanities. The library announced Frost has agreed to another three-year term in that post.

"Now I've got all mixed up in government," he murmured. "The other day someone called me a statesman. So if I act a little funny tonight, a little strange, it isn't poetry, it's statesmanship."

Mrs. Margaret Lamont and Mrs. Kathryn Foerch sang a duet, "The Place Where I Worship," accompanied by Mrs. Ruby Rowland. Mrs. Ruth Stanley, worthy matron from Canton, sang, "My God and I," accompanied by Mrs. LaVerne Hahlen of Homeworth. Special guests were: Mrs. Marjorie Starkie of Hanover, Mrs. Doris Preston from Leesville, Mary Ann Cotter, Drell McQueen, Evelyn Elsass, and Marguerite Wilson, grand representatives.

DAVID ROWLAND and James Ferrall of the Columbiana School system placed in the top one percent among 59,000 students who took the recent statewide eighth grade test.

David scored 173 and James 171 out of a possible 200 in the arithmetical, scientific, historical and English-covered test.

The Columbiana Rotary Club is planning a field trip for the high school senior class to the Roemer Works of the Sharon Steel Co. in Sharon, Pa.

The local Ohio State University chapter of Northern Columbiana County will meet Wednesday, May 16, at 1 p.m. at Parkview House in Canfield. A highlight of the meeting will be the election and installation of new officers.

MRS. PAUL CHADDOCK will receive the South Side Club at her home Thursday afternoon. Cancer pads will be made and a quilt will be bound for a returning missionary family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall will have charge of the program for the Wednesday meeting of the Boat and Ski Club to be held

OPPOSES MEDICAL PLAN

Bruce Henriksen, director of surgery at New Jersey's Point Pleasant hospital, started the movement to get doctors to refuse treatment for patients participating in a proposed federal medical plan for the aged. The following attended the Lutheran Sunday School Association Convention Sunday afternoon in Girard: Mr. and Mrs. Art Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hawkins, Mr. Francis Fellers, Ryan Snyder, Dorothy Barkley, Florence Hively, Rosina Blair, Dick Souders and Ada Douglas.

TO ATTEND MEETING

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday approved the attendance of Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, at a state welfare directors meeting in Columbus Wednesday and Thursday.

In other business they approved the admittance of one patient to the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital. Their next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Other Day

A friend was talking about how often great inventions and advances stem from someone's desire to serve or help others, although in the beginning of the idea there was no obvious relationship to the end result.

As an example, he cited that Alexander Graham Bell was put on the path to his invention of the telephone by his desire to help deaf children to talk. He was not an engineer, as one might assume, but began his career as an instructor in speech and music.

In his desire to teach deaf children to talk he hit on the idea that if he could devise a way for them to SEE sound they would soon be on their way to better articulation. So he devised a way for them to see their own speech vibrations. This he did by developing a membrane that would visibly vibrate from speech sounds, and he did this at a time when electrical transmission of Morse Code was already in use. Thus he had the seed of the idea that he was to develop into the telephone. The next step was causing the vibrations to be transmitted electrically through the vibrations causing variations of intensity of the current.

In March of 1876 he obtained his patent on the telephone and delivered the first spoken sentence ever transmitted electrically over wires to prove that it worked. We don't expect to come up with any great inventions, but we certainly do have as a first desire the goal of serving you to your very best advantage. MAN CHANGES PLEA
LISBON — A probation investigation has been ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp for George Samuel Bourne of California, formerly of East Liverpool, who Monday changed his plea to guilty of non-support of his minor child.

Bourne, indicted by the April grand jury, pleaded not guilty April 19. His case was scheduled for trial Wednesday.

Gospel Dissuades Despondent Man From Suicide Leap

CINCINNATI (AP) — It took a text from John 3:16 Monday night to finally persuade an ex-paratrooper not to plunge to his death from the roof of the 14-story Cincinnati Enquirer building.

Michael Terrill, 34, who kept onlookers in suspense for more than 2½ hours, swayed and crumpled to the rooftop in a faint when Maj. Norman S. Marshall of the Salvation Army read to him: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Terrill, an employee of the P. F. Collier Co., had gone to the roof shortly after 5 p.m. To persons who tried to talk him into leaving the ledge running around the roof, he replied that he had insurmountable family problems and that his wife had divorced him a short time ago.

Several times he threatened to jump, and sat on the ledge with his legs swinging over several hundred feet of emptiness.

Below, on Sixth Street and College Street, several hundred people milled about, trying to catch sight of him. Patrons of a hotel dining room across Sixth Street also stared.

Terrill talked about being a paratrooper and insisted he was going off the ledge "because I did terrible things in Korea."

When Maj. Marshall began reading from the gospels, Terrill collapsed.

Police took Terrill to the Veteran's Administration Hospital where he had formerly been an outpatient.
